

Penny Panda's Robot Kit Mission

Penny Panda spotted the coolest robot kit in the shop window and gasped. He wanted it fast, but his pocket only held a little money.

So, Penny started a mission. He found a jar, wrote "Robot Kit Mission" on the front, and made a simple rule: save first. Each time he earned a few dollars from small chores, he dropped some into the jar before spending on anything else.

One afternoon, a silly "Impulse Gremlin" popped up with a giant candy bar. "Buy this now," it whispered. Penny almost did, then he stopped, took a breath, and said, "Pause and plan." He pictured the robot blinking and dancing. Then he put his money in the jar instead.

Day by day, the coins clinked, the jar filled, and Penny felt stronger. When he finally had enough, Penny marched back to the store, bought the robot kit, and smiled the whole way home.

Saving, Penny learned, is how small choices today become something big later.
